What is Going On Tonight.

Francis R. Long Post, No. 30, G. A.
30, meets in Memorial hall.

Many Willimantic citizens were surprised Friday morning upon reading an account in a Hartford paper that the appointment of J. D. Elmendorf, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., as Americanization agent of the town of Windham has been held up by Director Deming of Hartford, district Americanization chairman. It seems that following the appointment of Mr. Elmendorf as Americanization agent by the town school committee some Willimantic person or persons started a story that Mr. Elmendorf was not a voter in the town of Willimantic. This story grew until it was claimed that Mr. Elmendorf had not even taken out his citizenship papers. At this time a reporter on a Hartford paper went to Director Deming and told him what he absolutely without foundation. Mr. Elmendorf, who is general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., has held the office as Americanization agent in this city for the past year, having been selected as the man for the position by the Industrial Board of the mills of the city. When the state offered to pay part of the salary of the Americanization agent if the man was appointed by the school board of the town and approved of by Director Deming, Mr. Elmendorf's name was mentioned and he was chosen for the position by the local town school board. Whether the story that has been spread about as to his not being a citizen is the work of some one who delights in making trouble, or had its origin simply from the fact that Mr. Elmendorf had not become a voter in Willimantic since coming here is the question that remains to be answered, and many local people believe that the last named cause gave foundation to the story.

Willimantic dancers will soon be doing the old fashioned waltz and lancers, was the statement of one young man, after he had read that a certain organization in the city was to investigate the present style of dancing and make an endeavor to put a stop to the new steps if it was deemed safer for local morals. Others more pessimistic than the first speaker, said, "Well, they've taken away booze, and now they're trying to take away dancing and tobacco. Oh, why didn't the world come to an end in December, 17?" Some of the party claimed that it would be a good thing if those shimmy dances were stopped. Dancing, however, is not alone in disfavor with the organization as the committee has been instructed to better the conditions in the city still more by stopping the present style of dancing and to take up basket making, sewing, and other useful work. It had been the custom of the club to run dances throughout the winter but as there were no ladies in the city this year they waited until the present time and secured the services of the Peers orchestra for the evening.

The men of the Smith-Winchester company, about 100 in number, went to the factory Friday afternoon and drew whatever pay was coming to them. The demands of the men for the 10 per cent. increase in pay and a working week of 50 hours was handed in to the plant authorities. The men claim that they will not go back to work until their demands are met. The company has made the statement that the men would receive the increase in pay but they shortening of the working schedule of 15 hours a week, could not be conceded.

Christmas exercises were held at the Natchaug school Friday, some of the classes having their exercises in the morning while others held theirs in the afternoon. The attendance at the exercises was large and the visitors enjoyed the program so well carried out by the pupils.

Thursday evening at Windham High School auditorium, the pupils of the Windham street school presented the annual Christmas plays. The members of the elementary department gave The Toys' Rebellion, and the pupils of the grammar department presented one of Mrs. Cornelia S. Robinson's Christmas Pageants, entitled The Christmas Gift.

Superintendent of Transportation John H. Cain, of the Shore Line Electric Railway Company has notified the local chamber of commerce that its request for an increase in the transportation facilities on the South Coventry line during the Christmas season has been granted and that the trolley on that line will be in operation until 10:15. Monday and Tuesday of next week and Wednesday will be run until 11:15. This request for additional service on the South Coventry line was made necessary because of the shortening of the trolley schedule on that line by the Shore Line company in order to cut down expenses.

The Windham Girls' club is to give a dance, the proceeds to be turned into the treasury of the club to enable the girls to keep their rooms in the Fuller building which they have had for several years. The club is not one of social nature entirely but many of the members have had an opportunity to take up basket making, sewing, and other useful work. It had been the custom of the club to run dances throughout the winter but as there were no ladies in the city this year they waited until the present time and secured the services of the Peers orchestra for the evening.

Hanna R., wife of Judge Andrew J. Bowen, died last Thursday night at her home No. 147 Prospect street, death being caused by apoplexy. Mrs. Bowen was born in Eastford May 6, 1843, the daughter of Jonathan R. and Johanna Griggs Rindge. She came to this city in 1881. She was a member of the local Congregational church in which she was a tireless worker. She was also a member of the Willimantic Woman's club and the Daughters of the American Revolution. While member of the D. A. R. she was sent to Washington, D. C., as a delegate to a convention, and at a later date declined the honor of attending another meeting at the same place. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Bessie A. Vaughn of Worcester, Mass.; also two sons, Charles and Ernest E. Bowen of Willimantic.

A First Congregational church, Rev. Harry S. McCready, pastor will preach at 1:45, subject, "The Christmas Mystery." Sunday school meets at 9:45. Tea and Forum meet at the Gresham club rooms at 12:15. Frank R. Custard, assistant general secretary will have charge of the meeting.

At the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. C. Harley Smith, pastor will preach, the morning sermon, Sunday school will meet at 9:45. The Epworth League at 6:15, followed by evening service at 7 o'clock. The cantata "The Hope of the World" will be given at this service.

Christian Science service is held Sunday morning in the Woman's club rooms. No. 803 Main street. Subject of lesson sermon, "Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Automatic Forces?" Golden Rule, 24-32. Responsive Reading, Psalms 136:1, 4, 9, 24-26.
